

Grey

Nothing's said but all is done
My last song's been sung

We both know you're the one to loose
Close my eyes, don't wanna see my bruise

Try to run away from you
You still catch me in my dreams in blue

I shut you out- don't wanna let you in That's my way to win

After the sun comes the rain
The clouds are grey and I don't want this to remain
After the sun comes the rain
The clouds are grey and I don't want this to remain

I gave you an inch
You wanted a mile
You try to force me - Let me think for a while

Rushing the connection that we've built
Well, in the end no one here's fulfilled

After the sun comes the rain
The clouds are grey and I don't want this to remain
After the sun comes the rain
The clouds are grey and I don't want this to remain

After the sun comes the rain
The clouds are grey and I don't want this to remain

After the sun comes the rain
The clouds are grey and I don't want this to remain
After the sun comes the rain
The clouds are grey and I don't want this to remain
After the sun comes the rain
The clouds are grey and I don't want this to remain
No I don't
No I don't
No I don't want this to remain
